Wenonah Players cast winter plays

Wenonah Players will be chalk-ing up at least three "firsts" with the opening of their winter show — AN EVENING OF STRIND-BERG — according to supervising director, Dorothy B. Magnus.

February 18 will mark the: First production in the new Open Stage Theatre at WSC's Performing Arts Center; first open stage showing of THE STRONGER and MISS JULIE in this area; first production of MISS JULIE in Winona. In addition, Players, pioneer in this style of presentation in the state of Minnesota will be celebrating their 20th Anniversary of Open Stage Production.

Swedish writer August Strindberg, regarded as a genius among modern playwrights, wrote at the turn of the century. His novels, stories, and plays were known for their primary quality, originality, and keenness of repartee; Strindberg was especially recognized for his technical mastery of the theatre. His dramatic technique ranged from naturalism to expressionism, immensely expanding the resources of the stage.

The individual plays are student directed and student produced. John Heddle, senior from Winona, is production manager. Assistant to director of MISS JULIE (Sue Hoblit) will be Kathy Hel-land.

The new Open State Theatre in the Performing Arts building, a one-hundred-fifty seat house, is the first permanent Open State Theatre in Winona.

The show will run through Feb. 19.

DR. ROBERT DU FRESNE and Floretta Murray of Winona State College were among 500 guests of the Minnesota State College System and the Minnesota Museum of Art at the February 3 opening of "Talent VI," an exhibition of paintings, sculpture, drawing and crafts from the art faculties of the six Minnesota State Colleges.

Baroque ensemble plays for Common Market art show

by Richard Gora

Last Wednesday, Feb. 3, the Winona State Baroque Ensemble played at the opening of "Talent VI" at the Minnesota Museum of Art, St. Paul. Four WSC faculty members from the Art Department exhibited works at the show.

Floretta Murray, Wilfred McKenzie, William Peck and Judy Schlawn exhibited paintings, serigraphs, and craft works. Fifty-four artists from the six Minnesota State Colleges exhibited their works.

The show was the first Common Market event of its kind. The show will run through March 31 in the St. Paul Arts and Science Center, 30 East 10 Street, St. Paul.

Comments from guests at the opening included remarks about the brilliancy of the art faculties of the state colleges and the diversity of works being done in the college art departments.

Governing document distributed widely for student consideration

by Lee Gartner

Copies of the State College Rules and Regulations, nearing final approval, have been distributed widely on campus. Students may borrow copies from the library, Student Senate, and the Winonan office.

It is hoped by the steering committee, headed by Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs David Sweet, that the document will be approved by the State College Board in May. It will then have the same effect as law.

The new rules and regulations were set up with several things in mind, according to Chancellor of the State College System Dr. G. Theodore Mitau.

Through them the board is trying to provide greater flexibility, decentralization, greater freedom for the colleges to govern themselves, clear identification of where decisions are made and greater accessibility to decision makers and increased input opportunities.

Winona State members of the steering committee are Student Senate Pres. Tom Dunlap, Dr. Nichols and Mr. Decker, Vice President of Administrative Affairs. Dr. Nichols is the WSC representative of the drafting committee.

Recommendations for change are invited from all members of the college community. They should be submitted in writing to Pres. DuFresne no later than Feb. 22.

The document begins with an extensive chapter on rights and responsibilities of the members of the college communities. Some of these include evaluation of members solely on the basis of performance in meeting standards established and communicated to them in advance, the right to be informed in writing of the reasons for any proposed sanction, and a section providing the confidentiality of records.

The new rules and regulations place a great deal of emphasis on the individual college constitutions. The colleges are instructed to include many definitions of responsibilities, rights and procedures.

The student responsibilities will be in all of the following area: developing regulations relating to curriculum, evaluation of instruction, admissions, academic standards, graduation requirements, student relations, college unions, and housing.

Students, through means set up in the college constitution, will participate in selection of a new college president should a vacancy occur, in development of long-range plans and priorities for the college and establishment of and modification of the college regulations.

Thus the college constitution becomes very important. Provisions made in the Operating Procedures require each college to have a constitution which is consistent with the new rules and regulations.

Each college president will have 30 days after the approval of the new rules and regulations to decide whether that college will amend its present constitution or write a new one.

At present Winona State does not have an all-college constitution.

Band begins concert tour

by Roxy Hanson

Where have all the symphonic band members gone?

They departed today on a five-day tour of high schools and universities in southeastern Minnesota and east-central Wisconsin with 70 members, largest in the school's history.

Dr. Donald K. Moely, conductor for the tour and member of the WSC Music Department, cites the two-fold purpose of the tour as (1) "giving the band members the musical experience of playing more than one concert," and (2) "providing a means of publicizing WSC through a musical performing organization."

He added that Charles Bentley, Admissions Counselor, will accompany the band as its announcer, and will present slides of the WSC campus and talk to students interested in attending WSC.

The high school performances will be concluded with a few selections by the 18-member jazz-rock ensemble. This is being done to provide a variety of entertainment for the younger set.

The band will stay overnight at Oshkosh, Stevens Point, and Milwaukee. Money for this will come from the Music Activities Fund.

Since the band has outgrown two buses, they will have to take along a truck or trailer to carry equipment. Dr. Moely is not complaining though.

and extreme laws."

He recommends more sophisticated and varied steps to control all drug usage. He calls for reducing the availability of most or all drugs, halting the advertising of legal drugs like alcohol and cigarettes, prohibitive taxation, and above all, "improving the quality of American life."

The Action Scene

by Leigh Almo

(ED. NOTE — Each student has a problem which he feels is pertinent to him. Why not let the Winonan know about it? The staff will find the action and get the wheels of bureaucracy moving again. You may request action on any problem and leave it in the Student Senate suggestion box in the smog. Please include your name and phone number).

Q. Why aren't the sidewalks on campus cleared of snow and ice? — D. Pierce.

A. Plant Operations Superintendent, Les Larsen, said that the motorized equipment the college uses doesn't reach the surface of the walks because of the unevenness of the walks and this is the reason they are not cleared. There is also the danger of breaking a blade on the plow if it is set too low. He also stated that if the walks were completely cleared, water from melting snow would cover them and produce icy walks when it freezes.

Q. Can the clocks on campus be aligned so they all give the proper time? — C. Leach.

A. Again, this is Les Larsen's department. He said a new 19,000 impulse system was installed recently in the new section of Maxwell Library. This generator system is supposed to keep all the clocks on campus properly aligned. Presently, three-fourths of the clocks on campus are still on the old 12,000 impulse system, thus some of the clocks are different. An additional $10,000 has been requested to correct the problem.

Another problem is that some of the clocks are old and need replacing. Money must be obtained before they can be replaced.

Q. I've heard rumors that room and board rates will be going up next year. Is there any truth to these rumors? — R. Amlee.

A. No. In a note received from Mr. Tom Kelly, Vice Chancellor for Educational Relations for the State College Board, attention was drawn to a news story in the Minneapolis Tribune of February 4, 1971: "The State College Board decided to keep the same food prices and to hold firm on dormitory rents, which have been substantially the same — $535 for a double room — for the past three years. The actual costs of food and rent vary among the colleges in the six-school system, but the package price is $825 at all schools."

Roundtable tonight

The 73rd Speech Roundtable program will be presented in the Theater Auditorium of the Performing Arts Center tonight at 6:30 p.m.

"Speeches to Inform" will be given by members of the 118 speech classes of Dr. Judson, Mr. Mills, Mrs. Fusillo and Mrs. Frisby, with winners selected by audience ballot.

DZ's host dance

"Hearts were made to give away" is the theme of the Delta Zeta Valentines Dance to be held on Saturday evening, 9 to 1 p.m., in the west cafeteria of the College Union.

Music for the free formal affair is being provided by the Tom Lee Orchestra, and decorations for the dance include a huge pillar in the middle of the dance floor constructed of strings of hearts to fit the red and white color scheme.

Dr. Fort to issue plea at symposium

Dr. Joel Fort, author of The Pleasure Seekers, is at odds with many of his peers in his approach to the problem of drugs.

He recommends individualism, creative social change . . . "dropping in" instead of "out" of society and the equality of life.

Dr. Fort will issue his plea for a better "World of the Future" through "Change of the System" in an appearance in Somsen Hall at Winona State College at 8:15 p.m., Monday, Feb. 15.

This attraction is another in the series sponsored by the Winona State Concerts and Lectures Committee. The lecture is open to the college and general public without charge.

New political remedies guarantee phobia cure

Three British psychiatrists have found a way to overcome phobias, according to an article in the British Medical Journal.

A 27-year-old electrician with an irrational fear of balloons was cured by having 90 balloons burst near him in 30 minutes, and a 20-year-old student with a historical fear of water was cured by taking a bath.

It is possible to think of a few other people with irrational fears who might be cured in the same manner. It would be stimulating to see:

- the late Paul Powell reading a book entitled Don't Save Money in Shoe Boxes.
- radicals, who blow up Russian embassies in New York, taking government sponsored courses in public relations.
- members of the DFL convention of '68 going on patrol with Chicago's "storm troopers in blue."
- Ralph Nader campaigning for better insurance policies.
- Ho Chi Minh leading Viet Cong raids.
- legislators, who voted themselves pay raises, suffering a loss of purchasing power.
- William Kunstler and certain Supreme Court Justices repeating law school.
- a Cuban revolutionary and a Palestinian guerrilla trying to hijack the same plane.
- members of the "Weatherman" faction taking a college course from William F. Buckley entitled "American Political Thought."
- executives of Gulf Corp. listening to ecology lectures on the oil soaked beaches of California.
- Mohammed Ali leading calisthenics at Camp Pendleton.

Student Health

by Dr. Warren Haesly

(ED. NOTE — Dr. Haesly and other members concerned about student health will be writing columns throughout the year. If any student has a question on student health that can be answered through this column, let us know by dropping questions in the Student Senate Suggestion box or leave it at the student publications house. It's the gray one at the south entrance of the College Union).

This school year has seen an increase of venereal disease on this campus. Gonorrhea is the disease that we primarily see. Gonorrhea and syphilis are the two main venereal diseases of concern in this country and more than a million new cases are contracted each year in the U.S. Half of all the new cases are found in teenagers and young adults under 25 years of age. The World Health Organization has classified V.D. as the second most prevalent contagious disease after the common cold.

I guess this is because sex is so popular.

The American Social Health Association says venereal disease has reached pandemic proportions in the U.S. and estimates 14 million persons are infected. During the first 10 months of 1970, 303 cases of syphilis were reported and 3,557 cases of gonorrhea were reported in Minnesota. This is probably a small number of the actual cases.

How is V.D. spread? Only through intimate sexual contact.

Why the increase now? It is the consequence of sexual permissiveness and the new morality.

Syphilis is caused by a spirochete. It produces a sore or chancre at the point of entry to the body. You would be surprised where they are found sometimes. The second stage is a rash. The third stage can result in paralysis, insanity, blindness, heart disease, and death. A blood test will determine the presence of syphilis. It is treated with penicillin and other antibiotics.

Gonorrhea is caused by the germ gonococcus. Discharge of pus from the genital organs plus the burning and itching that go with it is the main symptom. A microscopic examination of the discharge is used to diagnose gonorrhea. It is also treated with penicillin and other antibiotics. Both diseases are becoming resistant to treatment.

The Health Service at Winona State is equipped to diagnose and treat venereal disease. In conclusion let me say that any practice which promotes sexual permissiveness at the same time promotes venereal disease.

Internships offered to sociology majors

A new internship program in sociology is opening up for students who will be seniors next year, majoring in sociology.

The program includes openings in county welfare departments and state hospitals for the mentally ill or the mentally retarded. Salaries range from $800 to $900 for the ten week period and five credits in sociology will be awarded.

Interested students should contact Hosea Perry, Somsen 112A.

The experience will provide an opportunity for students to work directly with clients, learn the skills needed to work with others, earn five credits, test social work as a career choice and earn $800 to $900.

The Bramblebush

by L. J. Turner

Yes, I'm back again! Some of you may have wondered what happened to this column, some of you may know what happened to it, and still others never knew this column existed and couldn't have cared less about its disappearance. For those of you who may be interested, please allow me to explain the absence.

Shortly after the last "Bramblebush" appeared in November, I visited friends in another state. While away, my home was burglarized by the notorious "Bunglebird." (For those of you not familiar with biology or its related fields, the "Bunglebird" is a member of the tnetemnocni family of our featherly friends). Witnesses reported that they had seen the felon fly off with my typewriter clutched in its talons.

A week later I received a letter stating, "Mr. Turner, you are an irresponsible writer! Because this is true, my associates and I decided that I should steal your typewriter so that you could no longer write that column of yours. I'm certain you can understand and accept this action." It was signed, "Bunglebird." Needless to say, the whole thing rather upset me. Not only had I lost a perfectly good typewriter, but also my column of which I had grown quite fond. Well, not one to cry over curtailed columns, I realized that there was nothing I could do to regain my former possessions. Thus resigned to silence, I quietly continued my academic pursuits.

In the course of those pursuits, I had become interested in the quality of the environment on and around the WSC campus. Specifically, I had become concerned with the appearance of a large refuse heap in the middle of the student parking lot. The heap consisted wholly of left-over copies of the college newspaper and seemed to grow a bit larger each week until the entire parking lot was covered by the unsightly collection. Then, at almost the same time that my typewriter was purloined, the rubbish mound began to emit a terribly foul odor. Thinking that things had gone quite far enough, I went to what I thought was the proper authority to see what could be done only to be told that no eyesore existed. To make a long story short, after two months of pleading, the authority concurred with my concern and removed the mess last week. What, you may ask, does this have to do with this column? Bear with me and I will explain the very singular relationship.

When the authority removed the heap they found at its base the lifeless form of the felonious "Bunglebird" beneath my pilfered typewriter. The heap had evidently been the home of the weird animal and the hiding place in which my instrument was kept. Apparently the commotion of the removal operation caused the typewriter to fall upon its unfortunate victim resulting in the cruel but poetic justice. My typewriter was returned to me and the corpse buried in the city's landfill along with its former abode.

Now my machine and I have resumed our old romance and look forward to sharing our work with you for the remainder of the year. I do so hope that my colleagues will not again be abducted for, as I understand it, friends of the deceased are still about. In closing this little narrative, I turn to Oscar Wilde for his sage words, "The truth is seldom pure and never simple."

The usual "Bouquet of Brambles" will not be awarded this week because space does not allow me to list all those eligible and I don't want to create any hard feelings by deleting anyone.

WARRIOR GRAPPLER BILL HITESMAN manages a takedown in the third period and finally pins Jerry Collins of Stout State in the match last Thursday evening in Memorial Hall. The Warriors won 32-8.

Matmen record at 7-5 after busy schedule

by Tom Grothe

Winona State's matmen have had a busy week. On Thursday, Feb. 4, the Warriors crushed Stout State University of Menominee, Wis., 32-8. All-American Capt. Bill Hitesman led the victory with a third period pin. Saturday, Feb. 6, the Warriors traveled to Macomb, Ill. to participate in a triangular meet with Western Illinois and Cornell College. Winona suffered its second defeat of the season 22-14 at the hands of Western Illinois, but bounced back to trounce Cornell 24-16.

The Warriors showed the home town fans aggressiveness in annihilating Stout State, losing only the first and last bouts.

Against Western, Scott Miller sparked the Warriors off to a fast start with a first period pin at 118 lbs. Bob Nelson and Skip DeMarais followed with wins at 126 and 134, but the Warriors lost the next four matches before John Bedtke could win at 177 lbs. Winona lost the 190 and heavyweight bouts.

In coming back against Cornell, Miller tied. Nelson, DeMarais, Goeden, Hitesman, and Bedt-ke all won. Tom Goeden, a freshman wrestling his first varsity match at 150 lbs., led the win with a third period pin.

The Warriors, now 7-2, return to action this week with a home meet against tough conference rival St. Cloud Friday night.

WSC merman sets new record

by Rick Krueger

The WSC Mermen faced Macalester, La Crosse, and Stevens Point Swimming Teams in that order last week.

On Friday night the Warriors dropped an exciting meet to La Crosse by a score of 68-43. La Crosse is the defending Wisc. State University conference champion.

The highlight of the evening came for Winona when freshman Al Crawford set a new team record for the 200 yd. breaststroke in a time of 2:27.1, erasing the mark set by Larry Olsen in 1966 of 2:28.0.

Saturday the Warriors traveled to Stevens Point and scored a victory, 64-47. Stevens Point's team was runner-up in the Wisc. State University Conference last season.

Saturday, the Winona tankers will host Bemidji State College at 2:00 p.m. in Memorial Hall. Bemidji is the defending NIC champion and Winona is runner-up. Both teams have perfect records this year in conference play.

Presidential Ball plans complete

Invitations have been sent for the fourth annual President's Ball to be held Feb. 20 at Winona State College. Cocktail parties will be from 7 to 9 p.m., with dinner and dancing beginning at 9 p.m. in Kryzsko Commons with Fred Heyer's Orchestra providing danceable music. Special "intermission" entertainment is also planned.

Anyone who did not receive an invitation and wishes to attend is encouraged to phone the College Union.

Winona State College alumni are especially welcome.

There will be a special ticket rate of $10 per couple for full-time WSC students. This is a formal event.

BUCKETBALLER DON BENSONEN reaches high in action Monday night against Southwest Mustangs. Warriors shellacked opponents 101-67.

Mustangs corralled by Warriors 101-67

by Mike Loechler

The Warriors boosted their conference record to 5-2 by avenging an earlier loss to Southwest State in a convincing score of 101-67 in Memorial Hall action Monday night.

The fired-up Warriors wasted no time and jumped to an early 17-3 lead in the first half. The cagers continued to apply pressure by shooting 54.6 percent in the first half and led 48-29 at intermission. The cagers continued to dominate the play for the remainder of the game with fine shooting and aggressive rebounding by the entire front line of Young, Urbach, and Protsman.

In the scoring column, Young led with 29, followed by Protsman's 26, and Urbach canning 14 in his third starting role.

Al Thom scored 19 for the Mustangs.

Coach Wothke commented after the game, "We feel that we have our momentum going now. We've played three pretty good ball clubs in a row: Moorhead, which is currently fifth in the nation, Lea College, and Southwest to-night."

Wothke pointed out that Mike Urbach, a sophomore from Bloomington, was doing a great job since breaking into the starting line-up in the crucial game against Moorhead. "I just can't say enough about him."

Friday night the team travels to St. Cloud to meet the Huskies. As Coach Wothke pointed out, "To beat them, we must have crowd support, we need people there, and we must play a fine game to be in it with them."

Publications Comm. appoints editors

The Student Publications Committee at its Feb. 1 meeting, appointed Roger Runningen to succeed Lee Gartner and Richard Gora as editors of the "Winonan." The meeting also reaffirmed the earlier appointments of Maureen Rodich as "Wenonah" editor and of Connie Abbott and Carol Ryan as editors of the "Satori."

It may be recalled that the former co-editors of the Winonan and the other editors as well had been appointed earlier by the SPC. Subsequent action by other committees, however, resulted in the voidance of those appointments and reconsideration of them by the SPC.

MFT holds seminar Alpha Delta Pi initiates

The Minnesota State Federation of Teachers will be holding a seminar Monday at 7 p.m. in the College Union.

Public school administrators and student teachers will speak on teaching experiences within high school systems throughout the area.

All interested persons are welcome.

Is WORLD CAMPUS AFLOAT for YOU?

It can be now, with the former QUEEN ELIZABETH providing more accommodations and lower rates

The unforgettable, enormously enriching experience of a semester at sea is now within the range of most college students. Minimum costs have been reduced as much as $725 (from $3575 down to $2850, which includes round-the-world passage, meals, air-conditioned accommodations, and full tuition). A student can attend World Campus Afloat for a semester and still receive credit for the work back at his home campus.

The ship is your classroom, and the world is your laboratory... you'll drop anchor in the most exciting ports of Africa, Asia, and Latin America, listen to a lecture on the steps of the Taj Mahal, skin-dive off the coast of New Zealand. Send the coupon today for information and application forms for the fall semester 1971 or subsequent voyages. Scholarships and financial aid available.
